TRIAL HALTED AS DEFENDANT SOBS ON STAND

Miss Olivia M. P. Stone
Charged With Murder
Testifies.

BRING OUT FACTS

Attorneys Attempt to Show
That Kinkead Deserted Nurse.

New York, March 30.—Wearing the ring which she asserted had been given to her by Ellis Kinkadee, as a symbol of their common law marriage, Miss Olivia M. P. Stone, charged with the murder of Kinkadee, took the witness stand in her own defense today. Fits of weeping, during which a matron had to administer smelling salts and drinks of water to the witness, finally halted the trial.

Miss Stone was expected to tell how Kinkadee deserted her after their supposed common law marriage in Atlantic City and how she pleaded with him on the street the night of the slaying to remove the lie against her so she could get a divorce and resume her occupation of nursing, also how her mind went blank and then became clear after she was locked up in the police station charged with killing Kinkadee.

In a long address to the jury in Justice Aspinall's supreme court chambers in Brooklyn, Miss Stone's attorney, Edward J. Reilly, late yesterday outlined the defense.

Reilly told how Miss Stone and Kinkadee had lived together as man and wife in Atlantic City and also in New York after the nurse nursed him through a sickness. Then, he said, while Miss Stone waited for him in Cincinnati, Kinkadee and Marie Gormley were married.

"The last thing Kinkadee did before he left Cincinnati was to go to the general hospital there and defame her character, determined to rob her of her livelihood," Reilly charged. "That is why she searched for him as she did; why she followed him to New York and begged him to do the right thing on that August night. She met him in the street and when she came to she was sitting in the tailor shop with police officers about."

HOUSE NAVY BILL PLANS ARE RAPPED BY OTHER CAMP

Washington, March 30.—Not only is the pre-emptive American navy scrapped, but also the so-called "Hughes plan" is virtually junked under the present plans of the house to reduce navy personnel to 65,000 men, naval officials asserted yesterday.

They predicted that it would be only a short time until the navies of both Great Britain and Japan out-ranked that of the United States. According to present figures, the British navy will have more than 100,000 experienced men, and the Japanese will have sufficient man power to equip even ships they are entitled to under the treaty, with some left over for reserve.

While the department is engaged in direful predictions of what will happen when congress is perfecting plans today to overturn the action of the house and fix the size of the navy at 80,000 or more as demanded by the navy department.

An executive session of the naval affairs committee of the senate resulted in a decision to draw the dead line at 80,000 men.

The senate's policy will be "a good navy" not a cheap one, according to senator Page, Republican of Vermont chairman.

FORMER JUDGE IS EXPELLED FROM CLUB

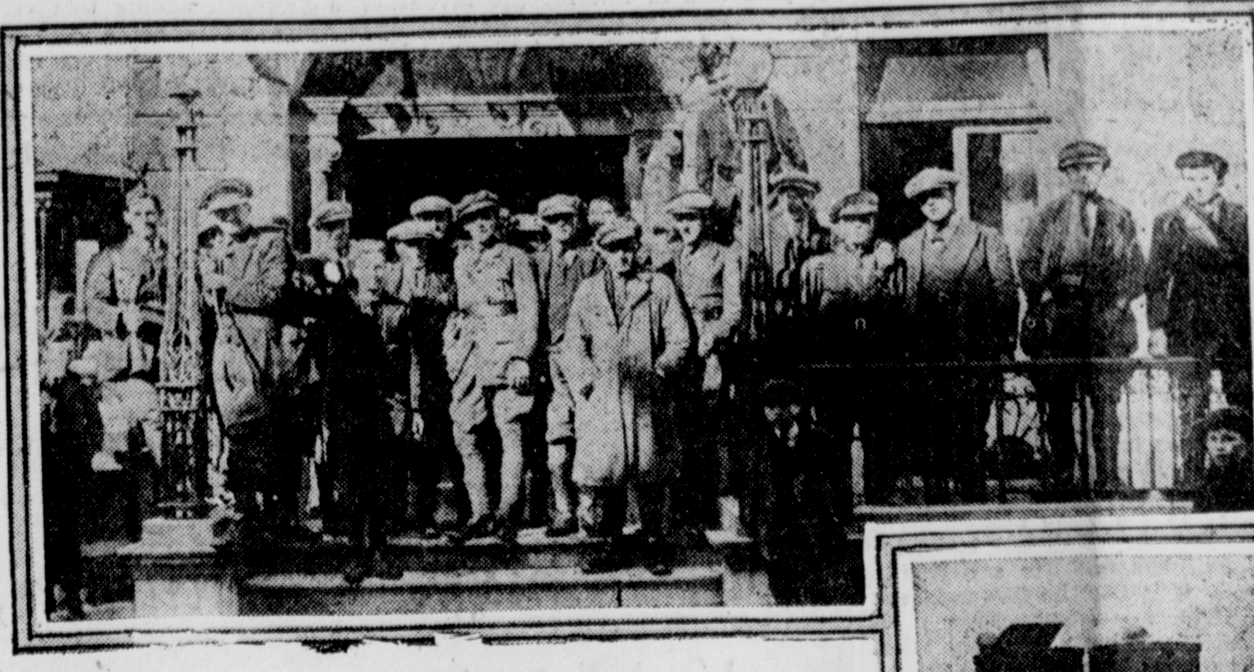

Cleveland, March 30.—George A. Howells, former judge of the municipal court has been expelled from the Cleveland athletic club, following an altercation over a card game, according to an announcement made by club officials today. The trouble, which is said to have occurred Friday evening resulted in another attorney being bitten in the cheek, according to reports in circulation today.

BEGIN INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED RUM RING

Cleveland, March 30.—The federal grand jury today began an investigation of an alleged rum ring in Cleveland, through which wealthy Clevelanders are reported to have secured large quantities of bonded whiskey and imported wines. Theo. Dewitt, steward of the Union club, and another employee are at liberty under bond of $5,000 each in connection with the case.

They are charged with having received sixty cases of Johnny Dewar Scotch whiskey, part of the cargo of the rum runner, Tranquillo, seized by Lakewood police last summer.

NEW CIVIL WAR THREATENS IRELAND ONCE MORE

"Siamese Twins" Are Dead; Operation Not Performed

Twins Were 43 Years Old at Death—Josefa Dies at 2:25 a. m. Thursday and Rosa Seven Minutes Later.

Chicago, Ill., March 30.—Josefa of Rosa to permit the operation, and Rosa Blazek, the "Siamese twins" died early today. They died as they were born and as they had lived—together. No operation was attempted to prevent their death.

Dr. Benjamin Breakstone, chief surgeon of the hospital said Josefa's death occurred at 2:25 a. m., and Rosa's at 2:32. The end of one of the strangest cases known to medical science came about at 2:30 o'clock this morning. At 2 o'clock Dr. Benjamin Breakstone announced that he could no longer feel the pulse of either and that death was a matter of moments. He also declared that an operation which had been contemplated to save the life of one should the other die would be useless as each twin was beyond saving.

Through out yesterday and last night Dr. Breakstone and other physicians had pleaded with Franz Blazek, brother of the twins and with Franz Blazek, 12 year old son of Josefa, to permit the operation.

By their work in vaudeville and in museums, the twins had accumulated a fortune of considerable amount. It is expected that the son of Josefa and the brother of the twins will inherit this although the twins left no will, so far as has been learned.

Rosa married and was the mother of the son. Little is known in this country concerning the marriage or the husband, who is understood to have died. The son is a normal boy, physicians declare. He was at the bedside when the end came and wept silently.

Although joined together physicians said that each had a separate individual body with only two or three organs in common. Through out their illness it was noticed that although ill with the same condition they manifested different physical reactions such as varied temperature respirations and pulse beats.

After 750 years of fighting for freedom it apparently is a hard matter for the Irish to cease hostilities. A new civil war has been threatening Limerick, where some casualties already have been reported. Armored cars are being used to patrol the streets in the event of a pitched battle. Here is the first picture of the Irish Republican Army at Limerick to be received in this country. The soldiers are standing at the entrance to a hotel where they are quartered. A closeup of an armored car also is shown.

DEFINITE PLANS FOR IRISH PEACE TO BE PROPOSED

Parley in London Hopes to Settle Trouble in Ireland.

London, March 30.—Following a three-hour meeting of the committee of six in the Irish peace negotiations, a full session of the whole conference was called for this afternoon when it was understood, definite proposals would be introduced to end the Irish disorders. The members of the committee are Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill; Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, secretary of state for war; Michael Collins, of the Dublin government; Sir James Craig, of the Belfast government; Arthur Griffith of the Dublin government and Lord Londonderry of Ulster.

PUBLICATION OF DET AILS HAND TO HAND DUEL FOUGHT IN WEST STARTLES COLONY

Harry Leon Wilson, Famous Author, and Theodore L. Criley, Wealthy Landscape Painter, Fight Toe to Toe to Settle Months' Old Feud.

Carmel, Cal., March 30.—The colony of authors and artists here was startled today with the publication of details of a hand-to-hand duel fought by Harry Leon Wilson, famous author and Theodore L. Criley, wealthy landscape painter, as the outcome of a feud starting with the production of community play six months ago.

On a high cliff overlooking the sea in the early morning a few days ago, according to the reports current here, Wilson, a man of 55 and weighing about 185 pounds met Criley, aged about 45 and weighing 155, in primitive conflict. Seconds attended the men; it is said, and stripped to the waist they battled until Criley had scored four knock downs.

Wilson fought, according to the reports, until completely exhausted. The men wore thin riding gloves on their hands. Both were badly battered. It is reported Wilson's last blow nearly closed the left eye of the landscape artist.

The feud between the two men was well known here in the local colony. Last fall the open air theater, a community affair, presented "Pomander Walk," a romantic play. Mrs. Wilson was chosen for the role of heroine of the play and Criley played opposite her as hero. Wilson is said to have become jealous and this later fanned itself into bitter enmity.

According to all reports here, the early morning struggle between the two men was a classic from the standpoint of physical battling. The affair was handled in approved duelling fashion. The seconds handled all details between the two men and paced off the sod-covered ring. There were "rounds" only when a knockdown was scored.

Wilson recently came back from a trip to Hawaii. According to reports here he was in training during his stay at Honolulu and was in fine physical trim for the encounter. Wilson is understood first sent a verbal challenge to Criley. Criley replied in conciliatory spirit but agreeing to meet Wilson alone or with witnesses in any manner he wished. Wilson lost no time replying, stating that as soon as he could enlist the services of his seconds they would arrange the meeting.

The scene of the encounter is as romantic as the affair in which the men were engaged. It is a grass covered glade on a high point known as Yankee Point and isolated that the men were safe from all interference.

NATIONAL COAL STRIKE SCHEDULED TO BEGIN AT MIDNIGHT FRIDAY

Clouds Of New Crisis Now Darken German Horizon

New Indemnity Demands of Allies Seat of Internal Trouble In Politics of Nation—Wirth to Demand
Vote of Confidence.

Berlin, March 30.—The German political horizon was darkened today by the clouds of a new crisis. Its origin lies in the new indemnity demands of the inter-allied reparations commission. The nationalists in the reichstag already have moved a vote of ensure against Chancellor Wirth because of the policy he has adopted towards the allies in addressing the reichstag Tuesday rejected the demands of the allies for financial control of Germany.

The German Peoples' Party, comprising the big industrial magnates, of the country, is "on the fence." From indications today it does not wish to vote confidence in Chancellor Wirth nor does it want to join in a vote of censure.

The independent socialists, just as they did last May, probably will turn the balance. Supporters of the chancellor expect the socialists to support him.

TELEPHONE RATES IN OHIO WILL NOT BE REDUCED NOW

Tendency Upward Declares
Speaker at Columbus Convention.

Columbus, March 30.—Declaration that telephone rates in Ohio will not be reduced, but that, if any change takes place, rates will be boosted, was made by Frank L. Beam, Columbus, addressing the convention of the Ohio Independent Telephone Association, in session here today. Mr. Beam is president of the association. E. A. Reed, Columbus, president of the Ohio Bell Telephone Company, told association members that a move by the smaller independent companies to boost rates on call's transmitted over their system from other exchanges is indicated by reports received by his company.

"If the smaller companies ask an increase in compensation for calls transmitted from the Bell system to their lines, it will mean that our company, as will all others be forced to demand an increase on toll calls, declared President Reed.

Election of 17 new directors was announced including C. L. Jones, Athens; Conrad Kipp, Greenville; W. H. Heseltine, Delaware and A. J. Curran, Elyria.

Today's program includes addresses by F. H. Gardener, Oberlin, on "rates, publicity and service," and Ward A. Snook, Columbus; J. W. Stafford, Troy, and George B. Quatman, Sidney, on establishing better telephone service.

Rome, March 30.—The United States will have unofficial representation at Genoa during the international economic conference in the person of Richard Washburn Child, American ambassador to Italy, it was learned today. Ambassador Child, it is understood, is going to Genoa to insure friendly contact between the United States and the foreign powers.

"PEA SHOOTER" EXPENSIVE

Dayton, March 30.—Mary Fitzpatrick, 29, and colored, plugged her husband with a .22 calibre pea shooter, when she caught him coming out of an alley with another woman and upon a plea of guilty she was fined $50 and sent to the work house for 90 days not because she shot her better half but because she fired a gun within the city limits.

NEWSPAPER IS INTEGRAL PART OF THE FAMILY

WISDOM—the ability to judge soundly and deal sagaciously with facts—that indefinable something you are apt to experience only after the opportunity to make a profit with it is gone.

Repeatedly it has been conclusively demonstrated that the daily newspaper is an integral—a mighty important part of the average American family—that it holds an enviable place in the daily thoughts of men, women and children.

And this ability to judge, to deal with facts, as to the merits and effectiveness of advertising media is directly responsible for the many notable successes throughout the mercantile world.

ABANDON HOPE FOR AVERTING GREAT STRIKE

Walkout Will Be Directed
From New York in Initial Stage.

STAGE IS ALL SET Walkout In Anthracite Field Certain It Is Indicated.

New York, March 30.—The national coal strike, which will begin at midnight tomorrow, will be directed in its initial stage from New York City. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, is expected here tomorrow from Indianapolis to establish temporary headquarters. The leading officials of both the bituminous and anthracite sections of the union already are on the ground.

Any hopes that might have been entertained for eleventh hour developments that would avert the strike were abandoned today.

New York, March 30.—All hope of averting a strike of anthracite mine workers Saturday was abandoned today by the operators and representatives of the miners who have been in daily conference for ten days. No agreement has been reached and spokesmen for both sides admitted that the negotiations have so far fallen through.

That no progress has been made was proved by the statement of Thomas Kennedy, chairman of the miners scale committee, who said that the negotiations now in progress would be adjourned after Friday until next Monday in order that union officials and committeemen might return to their districts Saturday to supervise the walk out.

The 19 demands of the miners for increases in wage and for improved working conditions are being threshed out in the negotiations now pending.

It is maintained by the miners representatives that the operators refuse to meet them half way on any proposition and are insisting upon a seventeen per cent reduction in mining rates.

After the strike is on, the negotiations will be resumed, and Phillip Murray, vice president of the United Mine Workers, stated today that there was yet a chance of the operators and miners reaching an agreement.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 30.—The stage is "all set" today for the greatest tie up of industry the nation wide strike of coal miners now only 36 hours distant.

Confident that a "great many" non-union miners will join the union cause and drop their tools, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, today assumed generalship of the strike movement from headquarters of the union.

Nothing remains to be done, he said. The more than a half million union miners of the country will leave their jobs in unison at the stroke of 12 Friday night without further instructions from their officials. Mr. Lewis declared.

Saturday and for days, possibly weeks or months, thereafter, it will be a matter of "watchful waiting" in view of union leaders, who declare it is impossible for any one to forecast the probable duration of the strike. Until one side or the other recedes, it was admitted, it is to be a battle to the finish.

Huntington, W. Va., March 30.—The miners will say whether or not coal mines in the Kanawha fields operate after April 1.

Information to this effect was made public today by the West Virginia coal operators association here.

Operators are scheduled to present their new wage scale, calling for an approximate thirty percent reduction from the 1920 scale and the proposed scale of the United Mine Workers to miners today.

Kanawha operators will make no attempt to operate their mines if the miners refuse to work at the reduced scale. If the miners desire to work they may do so on an open shop basis. It was declared there would be no discrimination against union or non-union men nor will miners be imported from without the field.

Under the new scale, as demanded by the United Mine Workers, the minimum wage for unskilled labor is about $5.02 per day while the skilled laborer would get $7.18 for machine running or motorman. The operators asked the miners to accept a minimum of $3.75 and a maximum of about $5. Coal loaders get more, working by the number of tons loaded.

Clearfield, Pa., March 30.—In compliance with orders from Pres. John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, 45,000 miners in district No. 2, will walk out Saturday. Word was received at union headquarters today that the 20,000 non union miners in the district also will walk out, making the tie up in this district complete.

CLASH THREATENS BETWEEN LEGION AND COLLEGE BOYS

Night of Near Rioting Experienced in Colorado Springs.

Colorado Springs, Colo., March 30.—A clash between American legion members and students of Colorado college was feared today following a night of near rioting in and about the college campus.

Reports of bomb explosions at the residence of President C. A. Dunaway, of the college brought a squad of police to the scene early this morning, but investigation disclosed that the "bombs" were giant fire crackers and railroad fuses that had been exploded on the lawn of the college president's home.

Friction between President Dunaway and college students has existed for several weeks. The board of trustees yesterday announced support of Dunaway and a student strike was immediately threatened.

Police guards are stationed about the college today.

TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT IS STARTED

Lisbon, March 30.—A 4,000 miles trans-Atlantic air flight was begun here today by two Portuguese aviators when they departed in a powerful hydroplane for Brazil.

With cheers and shouted wishes of success ringing in their ears the aviators, Captain Scadura and Captain Coutinho, hopped off shortly after 7 o'clock. They planned to make their first stop at the Canary Islands.

The flight is being conducted under the auspices of the Portuguese government. Three Portuguese warships are stationed along the route to pick up the aviators if they fall into the water.

BREAK IS EXPECTED IN THE FAR EAST

Tokio, March 30.—A break off of the Darien negotiations between Japan and the far eastern republic is expected here due to the refusal of the Chita government to grant Japan's demands.

This, however, does not change the outlook for early evacuation of Siberia by Japanese forces, according to the official view here.

Reports of clashes between Japanese forces and the bolsheviks are denied. The Chita forces, however, are reported driving anti-bolshevik forces into Japanese-patrolled territory. These fugitives are not being disarmed.

FRADY CASE IN SOUTH CONTINUED UNTIL MONDAY

Miami, Fla., March 30.—The surprise habeas corpus proceedings by which attorneys for Edgar C. Frady, of Chicago, charged with the murder of his wife, hope to obtain the release of their client from prison was continued until next Monday, when called in circuit court.

The weakened condition of Frady was advanced as the cause of the postponement. Frady slashed his own throat after his wife had been shot in their hotel here.

KIWANIS CLUB WILL EFFECT PERMANENT CLUB ON FRIDAY

The permanent organization of the Xenia Kiwanis Club will be effected, Friday evening at a special meeting at the Elk's Club at 5:45. This was decided upon at the regular meeting of the club, Wednesday evening, following a business session, at which Carl E. Lampert, filed organization.

Lampert explained the mode of procedure in such cases. Mr. Lampert will stay in Xenia until the permanent organization is formed, being called here at the request of the local club to lend assistance in organizing for a charter.

It was announced, Wednesday night that the temporary organization was virtually complete and that practically everything was in readiness for the formation of a permanent Kiwanis organization in Xenia.

The formation of the local club has been watched with interest by clubs in surrounding cities inasmuch as this is the only club in Kiwanis history that has organized without the aid of a field organizer at the start.

Members of the local club have been permitted to effect the organization and personnel since its inception last January.

It is expected that permanent officers and committee will be named at the meeting Friday evening.

KENTUCKIANS FLOCK TO HARDIN ONION FIELDS

Several hundred inhabitants of Maggotin and Johnson counties of Kentucky are pouring into the onion fields of Hardin County near McGuffey to help in the spring onion planting according to reports from Bellefontaine railroad officials.

Hundreds of Kentuckians go to the Hardin County onion fields annually where they are given a few months work. The territory where most of these people come from was the scene of the famous Hatfield-McCoy and Judson-Toliver feuds. It is in the heart interest story of the latter feud that John Fox Jr. found the material for his well known book, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

DAILY RADIO DEPARTMENT OF THE GAZETTE AND THE REPUBLICAN

NOTE—Herewith is another installment of the series of articles by a radio engineer on how to make an inexpensive radio receiving set—THE EDITOR.

By WILLIAM G. H. FINCH, Associate Member Institute of Radio Engineers.

New York, March 30.—When a radio message is sent it travels as fast as light, 186,000 miles per second, the current having a frequency as high as 100,000 cycles per second, and inasmuch as the diaphragm of the human ear will not respond to frequencies over 20,000 per second it is evident that some means must be found to detect and translate these impulses before they reach the telephone receiver. It is a known fact that certain crystals possess the necessary properties to accomplish this result, the most popular one used being galena, contact being made by a fine spring wire—hence the name "catwisker."

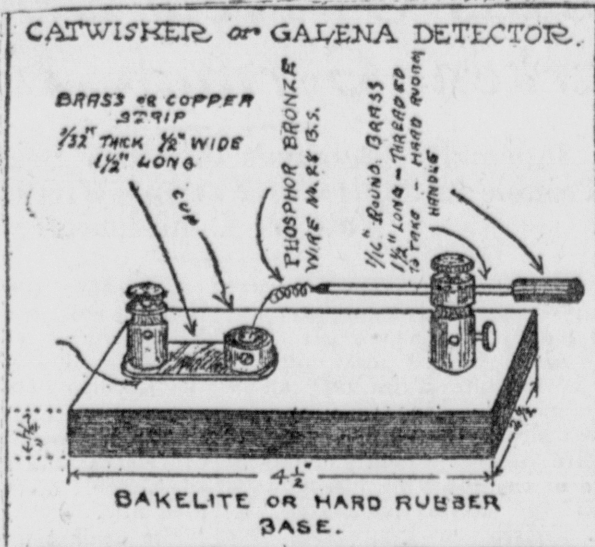

In order to construct this type of Catwisker galena detector it will be necessary to obtain the following materials:

- 1 binding post.
- 1 double binding post.
- 1 bakelite or hard rubber base 4-1/2 inches long, 2-1/2 inches wide, 3-4 inch thick.
- 1 piece of galena mounted on cup obtained from any radio supply store for thirty cents.
- 1 brass or copper strip—2 inches of phosphor bronze or copper wire, No. 28 or 30 B. S. gauge.
- 1 round brass rod 1-1/2 of an inch or 3-32 of an inch in diameter 1-1/2 inches long, threaded to take hard rubber handle.
- Drill an 8-32 of an inch hole 3-4 of an inch from both ends in center of base to take binding posts and drill another 8-32 inch hole 1-3/4 inches from edge on left side to take crystal cup and take the copper or brass strip, square up and mark off. To mount detector cup and binding post after the three holes are drilled, mount the binding post and metal strip as illustrated. Make a spring out of the phosphor bronze or copper wire as shown, soldering same to the end of the rod. You will now have completed the detector. The next article will tell how to make a fixed condenser and the radio code will be printed.

ELEVEN MILLIONS ASKED OF FORD IN SUIT BY A FORMER ENGINEER

Miami, Fla., March 30.—Damages in the sum of $11,000,000 are sought of Henry Ford, by Edward S. Huff, Miami electrical engineer, in a suit initiated here yesterday. Huff says that he originated the magneto now in use on motor cars manufactured by Ford and contends that Ford has not paid him in full for the invention.

Counsel for Huff received word from Ft. Meyers that service in the suit had been made there on Mr. Ford.

Huff says he holds the patents on the magneto used on all motor equipment manufactured by the Ford Motor Company, of Detroit, and asserts that he has been paid only $10,000 in royalties on his patent.

According to Huff's counsel, Huff was employed in the Ford plant in 1908, as an electrician and it is asserted that Ford told him in the presence of Dr. W. E. Sanborn, of Detroit, that he wished Huff to invent a magneto which could work on a flywheel, adding that such an invention would make Huff a rich man.

went to work on the invention and finally perfected the magneto now in use, his counsel says.

I felt dull and languid and my kidneys didn't act right. I began taking Foley Kidney Pills and they soon put my kidneys in a sound healthy condition." Foley Kidney Pills help the kidneys rid the system of acids and waste that cause lameness, backache, sore muscles, swollen joints and rheumatic pains. Tonic in effect, quick in action. About Detectors.

Q. What detector crystals can be used for receiving?

A. Galena and silicon are the most sensitive.

W. Hilkey wants to know—What size wire should I use for a receiving aerial?

A. Nos. 12 or 14 B. S. gauge bare copper or aluminum wire.

Q. What can I use to prevent the windings of my tuning coil from coming loose?

A. Apply a coat of orange shellac.

V. Hedden asks—what is the wave length and call of the Government station at Arlington?

A. 2,650 metres. Call N. A. A.

Q. J. P. Joice sends a diagram showing the aerial and ground are connected to the same binding post, and the detector, condenser and telephone receivers are in series, and asks why it is that he has not been able to hear any messages.

A. Joice, you have certainly taken the joy out of your receiving set by sending the messages directly to the ground before any of your instruments have had a chance at them.

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little mentho-sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

PLANS TO PREVENT SUBMISSION OF AMENDMENT MADE

Columbus, March 30.—Plans for instituting legal proceedings designed to prevent submission of the proposed light wines-beer amendment to the state constitution to Ohio voters at the November election were announced here today by James A. White, superintendent of the Ohio Anti-saloon league.

The secretary of state has passed upon the form of the brewers petition to bring beer back in Ohio. This makes it ready for circulation for signature, said Supt. White.

"By their own admission, they are seeking to do a void and useless thing. In other words, they are seeking to use the constitution of Ohio as a door-mat to have a straw vote taken which would mean nothing if approved, and are asking the tax payers of Ohio to pay the bill."

Supt. White said that an estimate by those who have had the experience in the secretary of state's office on the question of postage, printing, securing lists, the sending of a copy to each voter, clerical help, etc., is that it will cost from $150,000 to $200,000.

"We will file a legal protest against this useless expenditure of money with the secretary of state the moment the petition, with the required number of signatures is filed with him and by this method seek to determine at once by mandamus the legal questions involved by the supreme court," Supt. White announced.

"We are simply insisting that the vets, if they want to change the 18th amendment, shall do so by the method provided in the federal constitution and not by any camouflage, back door, indirect methods," asserted Supt. White.

IT'S A GREAT LIFE IF YOU DON'T WEAKEN

PERFECT HARMONY EXISTS BETWEEN HOUSE AND HARDING SAYS MONDELL

Washington, March 30.—Well, perfect harmony exists between President Harding and congress, Republican floor leader—Mondell solemnly assured the house today in making a sweeping denial of published statements of Republican party discord.

Brushing aside as though non-existent the conflict of views between the president, and the house over the bonus, rivers and harbors appropriations, the size of the army and navy, and kindred matters, Mondell said:

"The president and congress are not at loggerheads. There is a spirit and a purpose of cooperation; frequent consultations are the order of the day. The president's recommendations and the party program have been carried out or are in process of accomplishment. It has met with presidential approval as so far completed."

Mondell admitted there had been some conflict of opinion. "I do not wish to convey the impression," he said, "that the action of congress in either body, has a every moment of the time and in all stages of legislation been exactly or precisely to the breadth of a gnat's eye lash just what the president would have desired. Such a condition would not be desirable because it would no, be possible unless we all became identical mollycoddles."

Reports of conflict, Mondell asserted, can be mainly attributed to political sources. He criticized the anti-bonus campaign particularly. Some people, he said, have gone so far as to declare the position of the president, whereas the executive has refrained from committing himself, and he indicated that house action with respect to the army and navy bills was more nearly in accord with the president's wishes than newspaper reports led the country to believe.

"The anvil chorus," or lack of accord with the president will break out afresh, said Mondell, when the naval bill is taken up in the house. He said the bill was framed with the purpose of maintaining in fighting trim and in condition for prompt action a navy on the seas of the size and strength authorized by the terms of the recent conference and under that agreement to bring about a substantial reduction in the cost of the naval establishment.

GOVERNOR SILENT

Columbus, March 30.—Governor Davis made no statement today relative to the report that Mayor William F. Grall, Lorain, has been asked to resign for alleged failure to enforce prohibition laws.

Davis that the governor will issue no statement until he has gone over the report submitted by Commissioner Parker who held a conference with Mayor Grall late yesterday at Lorain.

TRUCULENT GHOST THAT WIELDS AXE WHEN IN PEEVISH MOOD IS REPORTED FROM COAL TOWN IN ALBERTA

Edmonton, Alberta, March 30.—A truculent ghost that wields an axe when in a peevish mood was reported today from Forestburg, a nearby coal field town.

According to local belief, the spook is the ghost of a former mine owner named Turner. After her husband's death, Mrs. Turner married again, becoming Mrs. Edall, and this action on her part put the ghost in a particular bad humor. Mrs. Edall said that the spirit suddenly appeared in her home with an axe in its hands and chased her all over the house before ghostly exhaustion put an end to the pursuit.

On another occasion the spook is said to have appeared to a gang of miners. All the men except one fled. This bold spirit, threw an axe at the ghost, which reluctantly drew off, apparently debating in its mind whether it would be wise to stay and give battle.

FIGHT IS LAUNCHED

Washington, March 30.—The expected fight on the president's ship subsidy plan was launched in the senate today when Senator Dial, Democrat of South Carolina, opened fire on the shipping board.

"I am opposed to any more of the peoples' money being thrown away upon such a set of incompetent men as the board is," said Dial. "I do not think any more money should be taken out of the peoples' pockets to be wasted by the board on its shipping schemes."

THE "REVIEW OF REVIEWS" MAGAZINE MAKES A PREDICTION.

"Today we are confronted by the difficulty of persuading the Democratic minority to resist the temptation of opposing treaties that are so excellent that they would have been accepted without a moment's hesitation on the Democratic side if they had been offered by a Democratic President and a Democratic Secretary of State. The tremendous majority rendered in the elections of November, 1918, seem to indicate that the country believed that the Democrats had shown a more stubborn partisanship in these foreign matters than the Republicans. Everything at Washington this spring is going on with full consciousness that Congress is to face another election in the present year. On many accounts the Democrats were believing that they could make great gains at the polls in November. It is not in a partisan spirit that we are venturing here to make a prediction. The one great achievement of the Harding Administration has been the cutting of the Washington Conference and the negotiation of a series of most desirable treaties. We predict that, if Democratic partisanship succeeds in defeating the ratification of these treaties by the Senate, the country will decline to justify such conduct and will strongly support the Republicans at the polls. For, whether or not the Republicans had a perfectly good case on the League of Nations issue in 1918, there can be no doubt as to the validity of the Republican case when it comes to endorsing the work of the recent armament conference. If no other argument sufficed to restrain extreme partisanship in the United States, the grave political conditions existing everywhere in Europe and Asia ought to teach us the wisdom of maintaining reasonable harmony here in support of prudent measures. It is true that we elect men to office by the use of party machinery. But, once in office, we expect men to act for the good of the country and not as mischievous party politicians. The Harding Administration is entitled to a fair four years' trial. It would be unfortunate to create a deadlock for the second half of Mr. Harding's term by pitting a Democratic Congress against a Republican Administration. If the country wishes to reverse its verdict of 1920, it should wait until 1924, and sweep the Democrats into full power all along the line."

POLITICS IS LINKED WITH THE HOME.

More than five hundred men and women attended the debut luncheon of the Twentieth Century Women's Republican Club at the Hotel Muebach, Kansas City, Kan., recently. Miss Alice Robertson, representative in Congress from the second district of Oklahoma, held a place of honor at the speakers' table with Mrs. Manley L. Fosseen, of Minneapolis, a member of the Republican national executive committee. It is a feminine field of homemaking, education and economic and social advantages—the political world as viewed by Mrs. Fosseen.

Mrs. Fosseen has had a lifetime of experience in public work. First as teacher, later as the wife of a member of the Minnesota state legislature, now one of the seven women members of the national Republican executive committee, state chairman of the committee and regional director of the national organization for the mid-West states, she has been a leader in many of the social and educational reforms of Minnesota and in the last few years has become a powerful influence in the women's ranks of the national Republican party.

"I became vitally interested in our national government when my 19-year-old son enlisted," she said. "You know, woman's greatest heritage is protection, and the government is the greatest organized protective force. We love the most that for which we sacrifice the most and so we mothers, in the war, found ourselves united with the government in a way we never had known before."

"Politics does not interfere with the home. The women who say it does and give that as an excuse for not taking part in the affairs of their government, are simply shirking their responsibility. In our home, we have found that my interest in politics makes our home life infinitely larger. Our conversation around the dinner table, for instance, is of civics and matters of state and national importance. I know for a fact that it is of untold benefit to my sons in school."

"It is necessary to make politics attractive to women. Women naturally are concerned with their homes, their families and with social affairs. Make them see the direct relationship between the highest, most desirable home and family conditions and local and national politics and they are bound to become interested in politics. It is undoubtedly true that the most far-reaching and lasting reforms always are effected by the women. So will it be with a political reform."

"Once women are aroused and interested—and hosts of them are becoming so every day—we can be assured that our national housekeeping will be as meticulous and praiseworthy from every standpoint as the housekeeping of the highest type of wife and mother."

"The vote is not a privilege. It is a duty and a responsibility."

CHEERFUL NEWS.

Automobile business is convincingly on the upgrade. Production of trucks and passenger cars for February of this year, according to authoritative report, showed a material increase over January while the output was larger than that of February of a year ago. All this, it may be remarked, out side of the Ford market, which like Tennyson's brook, seems to go on forever.

Back of this increase in production, with employment in automotive plants slowly but steadily increasing all over the country, is reported a corresponding mounting up of retail orders and sales for both trucks and cars, in all sections.

What cheerful news in here. Marked activity in one of America's chief industries. A boost for every industry allied with it. Together with these, a market for the finished product which indicates that merchants and citizens generally are doing business on a scale which permits the purchase of cars for business and pleasure. A little more news like this and the winter of our discontent will be glorious summer, sure enough.

DO YOU KNOW?

The number of workers employed in the chief industries in and around Detroit, Mich., has almost doubled since March 1, 1921. An increase of 8,664 workers was made in the month of February alone.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

MORNING, NOON, AND NIGHT

We sleep—only to wake again. And then into the day and its activities, appeals and incidents we go—only to sleep again!

Our little lives are filled with mornings, noons and nights. And were it not for the Creator of these movements of time that come to us all, what an expense of monotony our lot here would be!

But as it is Morning comes with its freshness and promise, Noon with its inspiration—Night with its fulfillment.

Only as we turn over routine, as the farmer does the dead soil that it may be reborn again, are we able to root sameness and put in its place richness of experience and accomplishment.

Each day comes to us in the appearance of a darkened room. The shades are drawn. We know not what manner of day we are going to have. But as we step to each window and raise each shade, the light streams in. We know that we are to have as companions every gift of the Universe.

And God pity the man who can see nothing in Nature but monotony and dullness—merely morning, noon and night.

Every thought of ours produces a definite effect—significant or not.

We are measured in the world by the height and breadth, and depth of the appreciations that come out of our experiences. And we grow happy as we pass the sensations from these appreciations along.

Morning noon and night, to you

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

who wish to live the life of action, are a program.

Into your morning you will put courage and determination, a well thought-out plan, cheer and the desire to serve. Into your noon you will put laughter, a little rest, many kindnesses shown, a little art and perhaps a song. While into night you will come with a glad prayer, arms full of that which you have gathered from your toil, and treasuring in your heart the knowledge that you have done your best.

So that morning, noon and night shall spell Victory to you!

GOOD FOR THAT "FLU" COUGH

For quick relief from the wearing coughs that "hang on" after the grippe or influenza, take Foley's Honey and Tar. Mrs. K. D. Drake, Childs, Md., writes: "After an attack of the flu that left me with a severe cough nothing seemed to relieve me till I tried Foley's Honey and Tar, which I can highly recommend." It is also good for croup, whooping cough and colds. It puts a soothing, healing coating over the inflamed surfaces, cuts the phlegm, eases hoarseness, clears the air passages. Sayre & Hemphill.

CRAMPS, PAINS AND BACKACHE

St. Louis Woman Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Louis, Mo.—"I was bothered with cramps and pains every month and had backache and had to go to bed as I could not work. My mother and my whole family always took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for such troubles and they induced me to try it and it has helped me very much. I don't have cramps any more, and I can do my housework all through the month. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends for female troubles."

Mrs. DELLA SCHOLZ, 1412 Salisbury Street, St. Louis, Mo.

Just think for a moment. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been in use for nearly fifty years. It is prepared from medicinal plants, by the utmost pharmaceutical skill, and superior methods. The ingredients thus combined in the Compound correct the conditions which cause such annoying symptoms as had been troubling Mrs. Scholz. The Vegetable Compound exercises a restorative influence of the most desirable character, correcting the trouble in a gentle but efficient manner. This is noted, by the disappearance, one after another, of the disagreeable symptoms.

BOOKS AND TALK.

I've a volume, bound in leather, wherein sleuths and villains glide, and I won't discuss the weather till I've laid the book aside; for a good old fashioned story, with a hero who's a scream, beats a conversation hoary, beats the weather as a theme. I will talk about the weather when I have no book to read, when the neighbors get together, swapping mental chickenfeed; I'll discuss the southeast breezes which may bring a needed rain, and will list to all the wheezes touching corn and other grain; I will talk of oats and barley and grow eloquent on hay; oh, I'll stand around and parley of the goosebone by the day; but I have no use for speling when I hold a story fine, in the shadow of my shieling, underneath my fig and vine. I don't understand the critter who can argue, talk and plead, who can stand around and twitter, when there is a book to read. Neighbors come across the heather to my coop, at close of day, to discuss the windy weather in their rather windy way; if I have no book I chatter in a style to beat the band, but I bid them scot and scatter if a novel is at hand.

Plans were made at the business meeting, held following the installation work for the annual Moose Fair which will be held the first part of May. The fair is one of the largest of the fraternal social parties and will be a bigger success than in previous years, it is announced.

A smoker was held following the meeting.

Styles BY LENORE

Summing up the ideas offered at a number of the important French exhibits, it may be concluded that Spring will bring no very great changes in fashion. Skirts are long, and waistlines are low. We have long adopted ourselves to the low waistline—and skirts? Aren't we beginning to be feeble in our protests against the longer lengths? Aren't we beginning to capitulate to our dressmakers, when they tell us "they are wearing 'em longer?" Oh, ever so little, anyway, but most of us will go the whole length if the French couturiers persist long enough.

One of the charming new gowns is shown in the sketch above. It is made of black satin, with wide godet flares at the sides, and jet cabochons.

FAILS TO SCHEDULE GAME WITH STIVERS

Coach Jerry L. Katherman, of Central High School, was given little encouragement when he attempted to book games with Stivers High of Dayton, in both football and basketball for next season, in Dayton-Wednesday.

Stivers athletic authorities told the local mentor that the Stivers schedules in both of those major high school sports had been filled for the 1922-23 season, and that it would be impossible to squeeze in a game. The local coach is anxious to fill an open date in football.

That he may obtain some results at the meeting of coaches of the southwestern Ohio district of the Ohio High School Athletic Association, in Dayton, Friday was expressed by Coach Katherman. At the gathering of the coaches, Coach Katherman will attempt to fill gaps in next year's schedules with high class schools.

The annual election of a director for the southwestern district on the board of control, will take place at the meeting Friday. G. R. Eastman of the Steele High School faculty, Dayton, is now south-western representative on the board—has been for a number of years, and is president of the board. U. R. Hidy of Springfield High is the other south-western district representative.

MUST SERVE LIFE IN OHIO PRISON

Dayton, March 30.—George E. Smith must serve the rest of his days in the Ohio penitentiary for murdering his wife, a jury on which there were four women, having returned a verdict of guilty under instructions of the court, following a plea of guilty formally entered when the case was called. A detective introduced letters tending to prove a marital triangle, which created a jealous rage intensified by an over-indulgence in corn liquor. At the time he shot his wife, Smith also shot his step son through the right eye. The one witness was called to fix the degree of murder.

LIFE IS SAVED

Hall ran out of the house William Harris, a neighbor covered him with a comfort, extinguishing the flames before Hall was fatally burned. Harris and two daughters then put out the fire in Hall's home.

OUTWITTING THE MOTH

Much has been written concerning fighting the clothes moth, and many remedies are suggested for its extermination. One of the best ways of getting rid of it, however, is provided by Mother Nature without cost—plenty of sun, wind and fresh air.

Before storing away your winter clothes and blankets, do not fail to hang them on your clothesline in a brisk breeze and beat them thoroughly, then let them fairly bake in sunshine for as many hours as you conveniently can. This beating and airing is just as important as laundering and dry cleaning anything which may be slightly soiled, before laying it away.

If you have actually detected moths in fur or garments it is always safe to brush these with a whisk broom saturated with formaldehyde solution (your druggist will prepare this for you) in addition to the above mentioned out of door treatment. For formaldehyde kills the moths as well as their eggs and is an excellent solution to use, if you are careful and remember to keep it out of the way of children and pets.

It is not only necessary to drive this pest out of one's clothing, but also out of built-in chests and lofty closets, that cannot be penetrated by sunshine; if these recesses have smooth surfaces it is best to sponge them with the above suggested formaldehyde solution; otherwise burn a sulphur candle in these places, the fumes of which will reach even the deepest crevices.

Attic trunks should be taken out into the open air if possible and whisked with the formaldehyde solution, then left in the out-of-doors for a thorough sunning. Trunks which cannot be taken out, should be moved as near as possible to a window to receive the same vigorous treatment.

In cases where formaldehyde cannot be secured, the following solution may be substituted: Add three tablespoons of turpentine to three quarts of cold water and apply this with a whisk broom. This is also an excellent solution to rub on floors under carpets or rugs in which moths or buffalo bugs have been found, after cleaning the rugs or carpets by hanging them on the line (if not too large—otherwise beating well out of doors) whisking with either the formaldehyde solution or the turpentine solution, and sunning well.

After making sure that your clothes and blankets harbor no moths and eggs, they can be hung up in the tar bags which are sold for the purpose; or they can be hung in homemade bags made of newspapers pasted together (covering clothes, hanger, and all) so that no hole remains for the admission of dust. Moths dislike printers ink and will let clothes alone that are hung in these bags or wrapped in airtight newspaper packages and secured firmly with narrow strips of the paper pasted over all overlapping edges. Camphor balls and cedar chips may be put inside these homemade bags with the garments.

A few hours of really conscientious care and prevention along these lines will repay the housewife a thousandfold.

Answer to "Betty": Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for the recipes you ask for, as I have them in printed, fullpage form. But please do not send a very tiny envelope or one of the long, narrow ones—as so many of my readers do—not realizing that it is hard to fill them. Tomorrow—When Your Preserve and Pickle Supply Runs Low.

BOARDING THE SHOULDERS
Most women will say that they do not want to be broad shouldered, the broad-shouldered woman is not supposed to be beautiful. The broad-shouldered woman is, however, healthy and it is quite possible to have shoulders that are much too narrow. I pass dozens of girls every day who need this new exercise I am describing.

In most gymnasiums the method used to broaden shoulders is by means of lateral tension. The student stands between two upright parallel bars placed far enough apart so that his arms are extended at right angles to his body. He grasps the bars with both hands and pulls alternately first with the right, then with the left hand. This exercise strengthens laterally the muscles of the shoulders.

If you cannot take the exercise this way you can get an almost identical action by means of a stretching board. This is nothing but a piece of board which need not be more than 4 inches wide, but which should be as wide as the distance from palm to palm of each hand when your arms are stretched out on either side level with your shoulders. The exercise, then, is to grasp the board between the hands and to pull on it as hard as possible, then to relax the muscles and then pull again, and to repeat this half a dozen times at first, and up to 16 times when you are used to the exercise.

Incidentally this is very good for correcting round shoulders and for developing a poor chest. This and any exercise should be followed by a little deep breathing. This too, can be practised in bed with the board lying across the chest. It is an excellent thing to take a few mild stretching exercises before getting up in the morning.

N. S. L.—You can remove these shells from the shafts of hair by combing with a fine toothed comb which is kept well soaked with vinegar. Kerosene is used to kill the active vermin.

Jeannette—As your hair is only to the shoulders bobbing would doubtless improve it. At 16 you have many years to wear it so before you outgrow the style. You are 15 pounds overweight, so if you get rid of this surplus, you will find that your legs will not seem out of proportion to the rest of your figure.

K. L.—Circles around the eyes usually indicate there is some internal disturbance which requires professional treatment. This should not be constructed to mean the temporary condition when circles appear from passing disturbances such as lack of sleep or a sluggish state of the liver.

The petition filed recently by Homer C. Morgan, president of Antioch, Philip Nash, dean and professor of civil engineering at Antioch and representatives of the Ohio State Board of Health, were on the witness stand. Edgar Stark, of Cincinnati, executor of the estate of John Bryan, which consists of considerable acreage adjacent to the Antioch property, and Attorney Little, of Cincinnati, were present at the hearing to protect the financial interests of the Bryan estate.

Judge Hornbeck adjourned the hearing until April 28, after the preliminary hearing Wednesday afternoon. LOOKS TO PRESS FOR REPORTS ON POSTOFFICE

Washington, March 30—Postmaster General Work is looking to the daily press to keep him advised as to how the Postal Service is functioning, and for this purpose he has asked postmasters to send to him clippings of news items and editorial comment on postal matters, both critical and complimentary. "The newspaper is the medium through which the public is talked to and talks back," said Postmaster General Work, "and it is an indispensable aid in improving the Service."

"There may be warrant for the feeling toward some public institutions that it is a waste of time to make complaint about poor service," he continued, "and it may have obtained in the past toward the Postal Service," he continued, "but it certainly did not exist under Mr. Hays and surely will have no occasion to develop during my administration. We are going to see that every complaint is thoroughly investigated and, if well founded action will be taken to correct any defects. If the service is such as to deserve compliments we hope that those who earn them may receive them as a matter of simple justice."

ST. BRIGIDS HIGH TEAM WINS BOTH CHAMPIONSHIPS

Playing in whirlwind fashion the crack St. Brigid's High team rang down the curtain on his year's schedule by annexing the school and Catholic championships to their belts.

In the first contest much beyond expectation the Green and White Boys were forced to the limit. The Cadets though a bunch of youngsters put up a sterling game but the locals hit their stride in the second frame and hung up a 32 to 12 score. This game made them undisputed School Champions.

With but a few minutes rest the newly crowned School Champs were called to decide the Catholic championship. The High boys had previous ly won the first game 16 to 11. The first half was the Casey's by a margin of 12 to 7 but unhooking some dazzling floorwork the High team won out by a 25 to 20 score in the second half. This gives them both championships all in a good night's work.

This yeast corrects a wide-spread disease

Vitamin deficiency, that the leading medical men are all discussing, is a disease that thousands of people nowadays suffer from, but which has only recently been recognized.

Unlike other diseases, which come from germs or infections, vitamin deficiency comes from a lack in modern foods of the recently discovered element, vitamin.

Its symptoms are failing appetite; indigestion; loss of weight, strength and vigor; unhealthy skin; nervous troubles and other signs of a "run down" condition.

If you are suffering from any of these

Extraordinary advantages of Yeast Foam Tablets

Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs

By Mrs. George Elliott McCormick.

TO DETERMINE PROPOSED MEMORIAL

Spring conferences are to determine whether or not the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs is to establish a fitting memorial for the soldier who trained at Camp Sherman during the World War. All clubs are to voice their wishes in this matter at these coming meetings. Delegates will be instructed how to vote on the proposed memorial plan of an assessment of 25 per cent per capita for a period of three years or whether a higher or lower assessment should be made, according to the recommendation of the memorial committee headed by Mrs. John McKee of Springfield, Clubs unable to be represented at the district meeting will be expected to forward the reports of their action.

During the war members of the Ohio Federation did splendid service at Camp Sherman under the wise supervision of the then state president, Mrs. Prentice E. Rood, of Toledo and to many of Ohio's Club women it has appeared as a fitting thing to do to commemorate the sacrifice made by the boys who trained at Camp Sherman. The action taken by the various spring conferences will reflect the sentiment for or against such a proposition at this time.

In the war committee's report submitted at the Cincinnati state convention last October, this paragraph is taken:

"If we can not erect a memorial that is worthy of the spirit of the sacrifice of our boys, a memorial executed by one of our great American sculptors, a memorial worthy of the ideals of the Federation, that will do credit to our nation and a pride to our state it would be best not to discuss memorials."

No committee ever named by the state federation is more competent to handle the work in hand in the event that it is definitely decided to erect such a memorial.

LOOK 'EM OVER! THIS STURDY BUNCH OF 5TH GRADE TOSSERS ARE FUTURE STARS

This is a basketball team. If you don't believe it, you can see for yourself—suits 'everything!

The Eagles, a team composed of fifth grade youths from Central Building, only won one game, but what of that? Didn't they play all big guys, and fellers twice their size sometimes and all that.

'Stoo bad. Having a name like that—Eagles—and then only winning one game. Kinda gives the eagle a black eye. But don't try to give the "razz" to this gang. Hard?—just look at 'em. Arms folded and mad lookin'. Look at "Gib" with his chin stuck out, an' big "Bill" Mc-

Callister, lookin' like his dad did when he was Sheriff. Even Charley Zell is lookin' hard. Looks like a bunch of professional wrestlers. But don't try to give them the "razz."

They'll call the gang out on you. Besides you know it's a real basketball team, when it had its picture taken. No team but what knows its stuff and all that, will do that. Here's the left to right on this gang of tossers. Look 'em over. They'll be playing for Central High some day: Lower row—Charles Zell, Edwin Davidson, Rolland Rice, Capt. Robert Buell, Manager John Gibney; Upper row—Charles Wood, W. B. McCallister and Robert Adair.

LAUNDRY WORKER RIVALS CARUSO!

Giuseppe Argentino, Brooklyn

Giuseppe Argentino, Brooklyn laundry worker, is said to have a tenor voice that rivals that of the late Enrico Caruso. Argentino will be making operatic history and scoring notable triumphs within a few years, declares Professor Jascha Bourj who is guiding the destinies of the new "find." The laundry worker sings clearly in high "E." Bourj asserts while the late Metropolitan Opera Company star was only able to reach high "C."

BABY GIRL SAFER IN AFRICA THAN ON BROADWAY, SAYS WIFE OF GORILLA-HUNTING EXPLORER.

Alice Bradley in African jungle

Her baby girl would be "safer in African jungles than among the automobiles of Broadway," declares Mrs. Herbert Bradley, of Chicago, who, with her husband, her six-year-old daughter, Alice, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Akeley, has just returned from a gorilla-hunting trip in the Belgian Congo region. Skins of many wild beasts killed by members of the party were brought back. Here you see a group of natives carrying little Miss Bradley. The lower picture shows the young lady with her parents and friends.

Young Quentin Roosevelt

Typical of the Roosevelt, characteristic of virility, young Quentin Roosevelt, son of the Assistant Secretary of War, and grandson of the late Theodore Roosevelt, former President, here shows you that he's a "regular" boy. He takes great delight in his locomotive and is shown here giving his rolling stock the "once over." Does he resemble Teddy?

REFUSE RECOGNITION OF AMERICAN WOMAN'S MARRIAGE TO PRINCE.

Prince and Princess Rospigliosi

Princess Joseph Rospigliosi, who started life as Mary Jennings Reid, of New Orleans and who is the divorced wife of Fredrick H. Parkhurst, of Bangor, Me., is residing in Italy on the estate of her husband. The marriage of the former Miss Reid to the Prince is not recognized by the Catholic Church, both Popes Leo and Pius X having refused to recognize the ceremony. This is the first picture of Princess Rospigliosi to arrive in this country since 1906.

THE RIDER GETS A THRILL AND A SPILL

Crack military riders of the Bulgarian Army completed at Sofia in the presence of King Boris and the royal family and performed some daring equestrian stunts. This rider got a thrill and a spill. The necks of both horse and rider were endangered by this fall from a ten-foot embankment.

NOT SO SPEEDY, BUT IT GETS THERE.

The slow old tortoise beat the swift young hare in that famous race centuries ago. This primitive cart is not very speedy, but it manages to reach its destination.

The Filipino driving the cart says it's not so full of germs as the various subways in New York—and the carabao who pulls the thing is happy because it's not very heavy.

WHICH PETAL WILL THE PRINCE PICK FROM THE DAISY?

The Prince of Wales, heir to the British throne, might be called the king-of hearts. During recent months he has been reported to be engaged to the five tilted ladies in the daisy group about him. Which petal will he pluck? Society in all the world is eager to know the answer. The Prince, going merrily on his way, unperturbed by reports of his "forthcoming marriage," is not telling anyone who will be "she." From the great list of eligibles he even may decide that he doesn't care for a daisy petal after all. The Prince is expected to make a choice when he returns from his tour of the Orient.

INTEREST IN RADIO PREVAILS THROUGHOUT THE NATION.

This is the age of the radio. The "wireless bug" has made its way throughout the nation. In every large city, in every small village, radio has become the thing of the day. Scientists, students, officials and public men are imbued with a desire to "listen in."

In this group of pictures you see a variety of students. General Pershing is shown taking a message from "the air." In the picture at the left you see Miss Mathilda Bender, of New York, demonstrating her pocket radiophone, which she carries in her purse. The group of girls are students of a Chicago school learning wireless in the class room. So popular has become the radio fad that many schools are following the lead taken by Chicago. The small photo shows, Rev. John W. Williamson, Chicago's law enforcer, broadcasting law lectures by radio.

SUCCESSFUL WORK IN EVANGELISM IS BEING EXPERIENCED

The successful work of Mrs. Ralph E. Stewart formerly Miss Margaret Eavey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Eavey of this city, who is associated with her husband in the Jones-Stewart evangelistic party in the east, is discussed in a Schenectady (N. Y.) paper, where they have been recently located.

For four weeks, the Rev. H. Wyse Jones, D. D., and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart held services at Schenectady, receiving 300 conversions, 500 consecrations, and 75 enlistments for life service.

One of the features of the meetings was the Bible study which Mrs. Stewart conducted for women. Mrs. Stewart is a graduate of the Moody Bible Institute and since joining the party has assisted her husband in the work with the children, in playing the piano, and the services for women. Her knowledge of the Bible is commented upon in the sketch, as an example of careful study and preparation.

UNABLE TO RETURN MAN WANTED HERE FOR NON-SUPPORT

Because of a peculiar interpretation of the laws by an attorney connected with the state capital of West Virginia, at Charleston, Edward Stephenson, wanted here on a non-support charge will not be returned to this city.

Prosecuting Attorney J. Kenneth Williamson, who left here for Charleston Tuesday night armed with extradition papers returned home Thursday morning without having accomplished his purpose. The prosecutor was called in when Probation Officer J. E. Watts was foiled in an attempt to extradite the man on the charge.

Stephenson, wife, Mrs. Ruby Stephenson came here from West Virginia two years ago and has since made her home here. She obtained a divorce here and was awarded custody of their son, the boy being brought to this city from Charleston recently by Deputy Sheriff Joe Day. Stephenson then refused to pay the support money, and the non-support charge was filed against him.

When Prosecutor Williamson presented his extradition papers to the Governor of West Virginia, he was referred to the complaint attorney connected with the state house who held that cases cited by the Prosecutor in his attempt to secure extradition of Stephenson were interpreted differently in that state, and refused to recognize the extradition papers supplied Prosecutor Williamson by Governor Davis.

GREEK VILLAGES FIRED

London, March 30.—Twenty Greek villages in the region of Kerasunda, on the Black Sea, were burned Feb. 25, and four other villages in the Pontus met a similar fate March 1, says a telegram from Archbishop Metaxakis, patriarch of Constantinople received yesterday by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Most of the inhabitants of these villages perished in the flames, the message said.

"The odor of burning bodies of women and children in the Pontus," said the message, "comes as a warning of what is awaiting Christians in Asia Minor after the withdrawal of the Hellenic army."

PANEL "TOUCHED"

HOUSEWIFE BECOMES NEW WOMAN

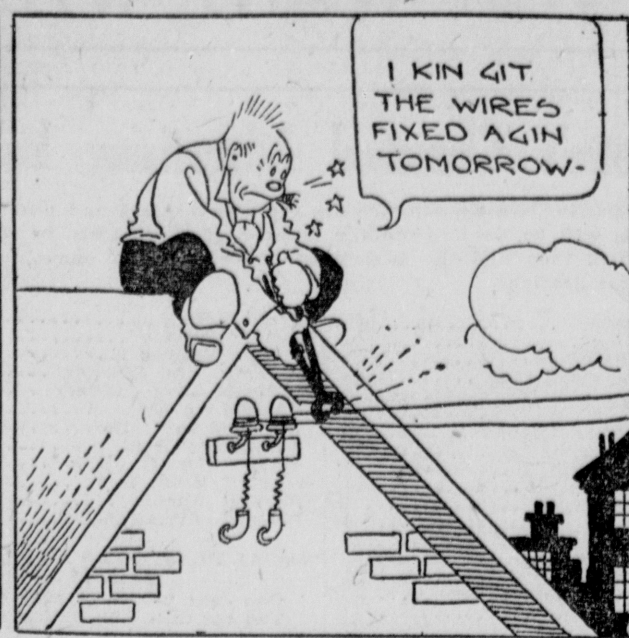

"All of our best doctors had given me up. I was unable to leave my bed for 16 weeks and was yellow as a pumpkin, besides the terrible stomach pains I suffered. Our druggist advised my husband to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and it has saved my life. I am a new woman now." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

"POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK" NOW PLANNED

Washington, March 30.—Postmaster General Work has appointed a committee to formulate plans and arrangements for a "Postal Improvement Week," which has been fixed as the first week in May, beginning on Monday, May 1.

"The purpose of the Postal Improvement Week," says Postmaster General Work, "is to stimulate all employees of the department throughout the country to greater interest and greater enterprise in order to perfect the Postal Service of the country by enlisting the assistance of the public to the end that there may be a better cooperation between the patrons of the offices and the personnel of the system, for, in the last analysis, the real postal system of the country includes those who prepare mail for transmission as well as those who are employed in the postal system proper."

All postmasters, officials, postal workers, newspapers, and all others who may be interested, are invited to send suggestions to the Department for consideration in connection with the program for this special improvement week.

FARM PROGRESS

RAISES POSITION FROM LAST PLACE UP TO THIRD NOW

From last place, to third is the record of Greene county in the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign, from February 17, when the campaign was launched in this county.

Any farmer in the county is eligible to enroll if he is using pure bred sires on all kinds of live stock. Sires need not be registered but should be from a registered sire or dam.

Women with poultry are also eligible as well as the boys and girls in the club work, according to County Agent Ford S. Prince. Those who wish to enroll should see the live stock committeemen from their township and enroll or sign up at the Farm Bureau office.

The way the various townships of the county stood on March 25, was as follows: Caesar Creek 22; Xenia, 19; Miami, 18; Cedarville, 18; Beavercreek, 15; New Jasper, 11; Sugar Creek, 9; Ross, 7; Silvercreek, 7; Spring Valley, 4; Bath, 1; Jefferson, 1; total 132.

The standing of the three leading counties is Hardin 210; Hancock, 136; and Greene, 132.

IDA M. TARBELL WELL PLEASED WITH ANTIOCH COLLEGE FOLLOWING VISIT TO YELLOW SPRINGS

Miss Ida M. Tarbell, of New York, writer and lecturer, who has been spending some time at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, studying the "Antioch Plan," is well pleased with the new form of education in use at the Yellow Springs school.

"I have found that many students after spending four years in a college, go out confused about the future," she said. "The college hasn't opened itself to the work. The students attempt to adjust themselves. There is a long period in which they have to tear down what they have built."

"Students feel and rightly so, that they have an important service to do but they forget that the beginning must be made at the bottom. The student feels he has fitted himself to start at the top. Everyone must serve a long apprenticeship."

"Mastering a profession," says Miss Tarbell, "is a long job. The cultured effects of college life are admirable in any job. They help in carrying out the job. The college develops the aptitude of these effects. The methods employed at Antioch give a better notion of what life is and when one goes out he has a better idea of service. The practical contacts the plan of work five weeks, study five weeks) are giving a sense of the reality which will give that culture more value. The students will be able to face the material problems of life. I feel that these students will become much more cosmopolitan persons because they will be better able to fit themselves to the situation in which they find themselves. This story of education frees one from the material side of things."

Miss Tarbell was the guest of Professor and Mrs. Hendrik Van Loon at luncheon Tuesday. Miss Julia Turner of the household economics entertained the dormitory girls at tea with Miss Tarbell as guest of honor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, dean of women, is entertaining the faculty at tea Wednesday afternoon, honoring Miss Tarbell.

TAXING DISTRICTS ENRICHED

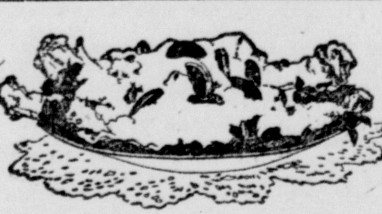

Athens, March 30.—The various taxing districts of Athens county have been enriched to the extent of $16,500 just received from the state as the county's share of the 1922 automobile license fees. Road and street work will be started at once all over the county, the work to be paid for with this money. Gallia county received $4,222; Jackson county, $6,424; Perry county, $5,367 and Hocking County, $2,284.

SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

Cincinnati, March 30.—William Kolb, 32, was shot and seriously wounded this morning while attempting to escape from detectives who were trying to arrest him on a charge of stealing merchandise from freight cars.

Spanish Green Olive And Pecan Salad

THE soup may be just right, the fish delicious, the chicken browned to a turn, and the dessert may melt in your guests' mouths. All these are very "usual," however. It's the "unusual" dish that will be remembered and redound to your credit as a hostess, when soup and dessert have been forgotten.

Here's an "unusual" salad, the recipe of which has just been composed by a leading dietitian. It will be a novelty on any dinner table—and a tasty novelty at that.

Select the large size Spanish green olives for this salad, and cut them in quarters lengthwise. Cut pecan meats in halves, then in quarters, using one-fourth pound pecans to a pint bottle of olives. To these quantities, add a cup of nicely seasoned cottage cheese, mixing all together well, and moistening with French dressing. Serve on lettuce leaves, and sprinkle each serving with paprika and finely chopped parsley. Celery cut fine may be used in place of the cheese if preferred.

FOUR DANCING FEET

GERTIE PROVES HER UNSELFISHNESS

CHAPTER 5

Gertie was so excited she also slept but little. That nice-looking, well-dressed fellow was coming to take her to ride! She thrilled at the thought. It was funny but she didn't know his name, she hadn't thought to ask. And he didn't know hers. Suppose he was only fooling and wouldn't come after all! Even before the thought gained place Gertie knew that he would come.

"Wake up, Lil! You sleep like a log. Say, Lil!" when the blue eyes opened and the stretching and yawning with which Lilly invariably coaxed herself to a realization of what was going on, was over—"What do you think? That fellow who brought me home is going to take me for a motor ride this afternoon! Then remembering, "Where did you go? I stayed awake for ever and ever so long to tell you."

"We went into one of them all-night places and talked. Gee, but I'm sleepy this morning. Is that all you got out of that swell guy, a promise to take you riding?"

"Yes! I tried to get up courage to hint for some silk stockings, thin ones like yours, but I didn't have the nerve. I ain't no good that way, Lil! I guess I never will be."

"Well, my society is worth something. I ain't giving my time to no fellow for nothing. You don't get no thanks for it if you do." Then, "That gink I was with gave me $5 to buy something."

Gertie sighed, while in her favorite posture—knees clasped in arms—she tried to digest the philosophy of her room-mate. Evidently there was something radically wrong with her, according to Lilly's viewpoint.

"I wish I had a pair of thin stockings to wear," she finally remarked, her big eyes brooding.

"It's your own fault you ain't got 'em. Chicken-hearted is what you are." Then both jumped up their healthy appetites clamoring.

Laughing and chattering, the two girls dressed. Their eyes were bright with youth and eagerness to know the future. They separated in the hall each going to the rooms occupied by their families for their late breakfast. Girls who dance in cabarets every night are not expected to rise early. So the clock was striking 11 when Gertie said:

"Ma, can you spare me a little of that money I gave you the other day?"

"How much, dearie? The rent is due tomorrow, you know, and Tim will have to have a pair of shoes or stay home from school."

"Could I have $5?" As it was money she had earned, her request might sound quite modest; but to see Mrs. Cummings' eyes one would have thought Gertie had demanded the entire earnings of the family.

"Five dollars! Why, dearie, I couldn't pay the rent. It took all the money I could earn this month for to feed you children and buy Jennie a new dress. She had to have it, dearie. She was cryin' because some of the girls in school made fun of her—called her 'rags'."

"Never mind, Ma, I'll get along."

Mrs. Cummings noted the sob that died in Gertie's throat.

"It's to bad, dearie, and you're so good to us all. I don't know how I could live if it wasn't for you, and the children wearin' out their clothes so fast. What was it you wanted to buy, dearie?"

"Never mind. I can get along all right, Ma. Get Tim his shoes don't want the other kids makin' fun of the children."

Mrs. Cummings sighed, but said no more. It had been a hard task, this bringing up her family after her husband died. Since Gertie had danced in the cabaret things had gone a little better. Fine ironing was wearing work, but Mrs. Cummings had to do something she could take home on account of the young children.

"Say, ma, an awful nice fellow came home with me last night."

Mrs. Cummings stopped in her task of washing dishes, wet hands raised a look very like fear in her eyes.

"Was Lilly with you?"

"No, she had a fellow of her own. I came straight home, but she went in somewhere for supper. He's asked me to go riding in an auto this afternoon. I told him I would."

"Is he all right, Gertie? You know, some fellows think a poor girl like you—at she's pretty—is—"

"Nothing like that, ma! He wanted to come and call. It made me laugh. Didn't even ask to come in like that guy I told you about the other night, but just treated me like a real lady."

"I'm afraid, dearie. You're too pretty to be in that show."

"There ain't nothin' to be afraid of, ma! I ain't got the nerve to be gay with them—even if I wanted to be, and with him I couldn't even want to. He's swell looking too, ma. Tall and strong. He's got a good face, too, the kind you feel right off you can trust, and don't need be afraid of what he'll say or do."

"I hope it's all right, dearie—but I can't help feelin' afraid every time one of them brings you home. If I didn't know you was good, I couldn't bear it, dearie."
